My kids and I have had a wonderful time with this great Coleman pop-up before outgrowing it. It has given us many memories and fun times. Your family will too!

This 1995 Coleman Utah does have a few dints on the outside, but regular maintenance has been done to prevent unnecessary environmental issues from accruing. External electricity and water hook-ups are in great working condition.

Plus, this camper has a bonus ability to operate solely on battery power for electricity and propane to run appliances if external power sources is unavailable.

The inside of the camper does have a bit of ware from use but has always been well cleaned and maintained.

Also, inside you have a working sink, fridge, 3 burner propane stove and plenty of storage space.
